

References:

- AHRC Australian Human Rights Commission (2024). Retrieved from <https://humanrights.gov.au/our-work/education/face-facts-cultural-diversity#:~:text=Australia%20is%20a%20vibrant%2C%20multicultural,one%20of%20our%20greatest%20strengths.>
- AIHW Australian Institute of Health & Welfare (2024). Retrieved from <https://www.aihw.gov.au/reports/disability/people-with-disability-in-australia-in-brief/contents/how-many-people-have-disability>
- Hattie, J. (2012). Visible Learning for Teachers. Corwin Visible Learning MetaX (2023). Retrieved from <https://www.visiblelearningmetax.com/Influences>
- Jacobs, H. H. (2006). Active literacy across the curriculum. Larchmont, NY: Eye on Education. <https://ascilite.org/conferences/dunedin2014/files/concise papers/255-Dalgarno.pdf>
- Health Direct. (2024). Retrieved from <https://www.healthdirect.gov.au/learning-disabilities#:~:text=A%20specific%20learning%20disorder%20can,people%20has%20a%20learning%20disability.>
- Pagaduan, M. (2023). Millions of Adult Australians struggle with basic literacy skills. The Educator Australia. Retrieved from <https://www.theeducatoronline.com/k12/news/millions-of-adult-australians-struggle-with-basic-literacy-skills/282321>
- PHIDU Torrens University Australia, Accessed March 2024. Retrieved from <https://phidu.torrens.edu.au/notes-on-the-data/demographic-social/early-school-leavers>
- Rance-Roney, J. (2010). Jump-starting language and schema for English-language learners: Teacher-composed digital jumpstarts for academic reading. Journal of Adolescent & Adult Literacy, 53, 376-385. doi:10.1598/JAAL.53.5.4
- Zepke, N., & Leach, L. (2010). Improving student engagement: Ten proposals for action. Active Learning in Higher Education, 11(3), 167–177. <https://doi.org/10.1177/1469787410379680>